Entertainment Comes Through

We're entertained through the sense of sight by viewing things that are beautiful. We're entertained through the sense of hearing by delightful conversation or bewitching music. We're entertained through the sense of smell by inhaling the sweetness of pleasant odors. We're entertained by the sense of feeling in a thousand pleasant sensations. We're entertained through the sense of taste by eating the rare things that are prepared by artists of finest education in the work of pleasing

You can have as rare a treat, as high class entertainment at your own lawn these beautiful evenings by taking lessons in entertainment through the sense of taste as you can have by going to the swell opera and taking Wagner through the ear. You've never tried it? If not, you have sadly neglected a part of your most pleasant and useful education. FOR INSTANCE:

Take the price of two balcony tickets at the Grand opera house, 50c each, or $1 total. Come to our confectionery department and buy a box of our fresh hand made candies. Take a few Chocolate creams, the best only 15 and 25c lb. Creams, the best only 15 and 25c lb. music melts in the car. Then a few French Bon Bons, then some Cream Walnuts, then a few Marshmallows, then some Butter Creams, a few slices Boston Cream. some chips from French Nugats, some Nut Caramels, a few squares Opera Creams, then a dozen Trilby sticks, a slab or two of Cocoanut Taffy, and then a long list of fine French fruits in the highest grade of these varieties you will have had a variety of entertainment through the sense of taste that will rival that of the best actors before the footlights. Besides, it's so different. From a variety of pleasant sensations we derive our greatest happiness. Listening to music all the time becomes stale, seeing grand educating the sense of taste? It takes an artist to cater to an educated taste. The man who succeeds in making high class confectionery thereby educating and pleasing the already educated taste is entitled to rank with those who hold the nultitudes spelibound from behind the

Our confectioner modestly leaves his claim as an artist in taste culture to the epicures. The splendid candies we're selling and the exceedingly low prices at which we're selling them make entertainment through the sense of taste both convenient and economical.

TO-MORROW 40c French Nugats, 15c; 2 lbs. for 25c. 40c Marshmallows, 15c; 2 lbs. for 25c. 40c Caramels, 18c pound, 2 for 35c.

BOARD AND JUSTICES.

REPORTS OF EXPERT ACCOUNTANTS.

NOVEL PROPOSITION SUBMITTED

A JUSTICE WILLING TO PAY DOUBLE WHAT HE OWES THE COUNTY.

Real Estate Agents Meet to Organize an Exchange-Trouble Between Mr. Kelley and the Coopers Is Still Unsettled.

"I will see that these accounts of the justices of the peace of this county are straightened out, and that the county gets what is due it from them, if it is necessary for me to get one hundred citizens to sign a petition calling for a grand jury," said Chairman Drought, of the county board, yesterday. This assertion was made at an open meeting of the board, and from the way he spoke it would indicate that he meant every word he said. The retent investigation of the expert ac-

The recent investigation of the expert accountants and the reports filed with the county commissioners are causing much trouble. In nearly every instance the experts claim that the instices were short in their accounts. On the other hand, each justice claims that he does not owe the county one cent, and in many instances the claim is made that the county is indebted to the justices.

A short time ago a whole batch of reports was referred to the ounty atterney, with instructions to take whatever steps were necessary to collect the amounts which the experts claimed were due. Yesterday County Attorney Miller returned the reports to the board with the information that there was nothing in them on which a complaint could be issued. He stated that if the justices will bring their books into his office he will examine them, correct the reports of the experts and set a set-lement for every cent that is due the probably the most severe answer to the tiement for every cent that is due the county.

Frobably the most severe answer to the charges of shortage was that of Justice of the Prace John T. Sims, of Armourdale, The experts claimed that he was over $1.20. Short. The answer which Mr. Sims made yesterday was to the effect that he did not owe the county anything, and that if the experts would show to him where he was short he would pay into the county treasury two dellars for every one missing.

When County Clerk Bruce finished reading the letter containing this offer there was a ripple of laghter in the audience. Chairman Drought showed that he did not relish the roast, but the only reply he made to the letter was the one in reference to impaneling a grand jury, as stated above.

Mr. Drought stated that he understood that no money had been turned in to the county for the fining of the medical students who were caught robbing graves in this city a few months ago. He said they were fined $25 cach, but not a cent had ever yet reached the school fund. These students were fined by Justice Swinsley, and the justice stated last evening that he had not turned the money in to the school fund mot turned the money in to the school fund but would do so just as soon as the county estiles with him. He claims that the county owes him about $600, and that he is perfectly willing to make a settlement at the carriest possible date.

The county board started to criticise the county attorney for returning the reports of the experts, but Mr. Miller told the members that the reports would have to be corrected first, before anything could be increased, and that the only way to correct them would be to have the dockets of the inferent justices of the pace brought into his office. The board has decided to take he matter up again to-morrow, when some refinite arrangements will be made looking toward a settlement.

Police Pulled Him Too Soon.

Seven more tippling shop keepers were arraigned in police court yesterday morning and all but one of them paid a $50 fine each. The jointist who refused to comply with the demand of Judge Leland was Frank Duvoll, whose place of business is at 113 Central avenue. When the judge imposed the fine Duvoll replied that the police "pulled" him before he had been in the business long enough to acumulate that amount of money. In default of the fine he was sent to the city juil to serve out a sentence on the rock pile. James Higgins alias "Slick," who has been evading the police for the past ten days, was brought into court yesterday and fined $50 for violating the prohibitory law. Over $50 has been secured from jointists in the police court during the past two days.

Ended in an Apolegy.

During the trial of Sherman Reid in police court yesterday morning a lively scene took place. Reid was being tried for stealing a pair of shoes from Swift's packing house and the tilt was between Officer Nash, the prosecuting witness, and Attorney B. S. Smith, who was defending the plaintiff. In his argument Attorney Smith accused the policeman of being sully of committing the same offense for which he had arrested Reid. Nash made a rush for Smith, who sought refuge among the officers in the room. Chief Serviss took a hand in the rumpus at this juncture and succeeded in restoring order, Judge Leland gave the men a severe talking to regarding their future conduct in his court, and informed them that should anything of that nature occur again he would fine both of them for contempt. When the case was settled Nash approached Smith and commanided the colored attorney and alderman to apologize to the court. Mr. Smith took a second glance at Nash, and, without hesitating, made an apology to the court and also to Mr. Nash.

Pleasantly Surprised.

Judge and Mrs. G. M. Hughes were very pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening by a large number of their friends, at their home, 416 Nebraska avenue. Music and social chat were the amusements of the evening. Mr. Hughes was called on for a speech, which he delivered in an eloquent style. Those who received invitations were Messirs, and Messiames Rev. B. Q. Denham, A. J. Hubinger, Cristy, Simcox, Phillips, Lancasier, Greene, Kennedy, Royer, Moreland, Gill, Lamar, Summerfield, Barrett; Misses Lena and Ethel Parker, Maud Smith, Lillian Reaves, Berenice Lamar, Maud Church, Alice and Neal Higgins, Alice Pease, Mattle Randals, Dora McDougal, Minnie Dickinson; Messrs, Ed and Frank Parker, Earl and Eugene Stottler, Will Randals, Ernest Stottler, Charles Walker, Arthur Barrett, Fred Heisler, Frank Bayles, Fred Brotherton, Fred Herring and Dick Harper. Pleasantly Surprised.

The Union Terminal Railway Company proposes to extend its line from the present western terminus at Arsentine to Turner station, six miles southwest of this city, and legal steps have already been taken with that end in view. Upon application of the company, Judge Alden, of the district court, has appointed C. W. McClure, Francis House and Joe Martin as appraisers to condemn a right of way for the proposed extension of the line. The appraisers will begin work June 10. The proposed extension will run along the south side of the right of way of the Santa Fe road between Argentine and Turner. The terminus of the road is now within a short distance of the Santa Fe round house. The commissioners have also been given the authority to condemn any land in this city through which the company desires to run Will Extend Its Line.

Injured by a Fall.

G. L. Washington, the lo-year-old sen of Lewis M. Washington, fell from an express wagon, on which he was taking a ride, at II o'clock yesterday morning at Fourth street and Armstrong avenue. His head struck on a rock, which caused concussion of the brain. Dr. E. J. Luiz was summoned, and after dressing the injured boy's wounds had him removed to his father's residence at the corner of First and Water streets. The entire left side of the boy became paralyzed from the effects of the fall, and he was in a precarious condition last night.

Attorney C. D. Flint, of Lawrence, appeared before Probate Judge Angle yesterlay and asked that a claim of 1300 be allowed him against the Sarah Johnson estate. The request was refused because the judge claimed he had no right to allow any laim against the estate. The claim was for legal services.

The Conference Between Mr. Kelley and the Striking Coopers Results in Nothing Being Accomplished.

A conference was held yesterday after-noon at the office of the Kelley Bros.' Cooperage Company between the managers of the company and representatives of the striking coopers. The coopers were repre-sented by the grievance committee of the Trades Assembly and a special committee

Trades Assembly and a special committee appointed by the coopers. A member of the grievance committee opened the conference by reading the following paper, which had been drafted by the joint committees of the strikers and Trades Assembly:

"Mr. Kelley, when a committee of the Coopers' union and the grievance committee of the Trades Assembly visited you some two months ago and attempted to adjust the difficulty existing between you and the striking coopers, they stated that it was the sincere wish of the coopers that this strike would be the last trouble they would ever have with you on questions of this kind, and that when a settlement was reached they would demand a written contract of such binding effect on you and the Coopers' union that it would forever stop these periodical difficulties between your firm and the Coopers' union. Are you willing, Mr. Kelley, to enter into a contract of this nature with the Coopers' union No. 18, the said contract to be mutually agreed upon and to be signed by your firm and the president and secretary of the Coopers' union, and to be witnessed by the president and secretary of the Trades Assembly and two other persons whom you shall name?"

This proposition on the part of strikers was made for the reason as stated by them, that the strikers and the managers of the company could better settle the strike among themselves than by any other method.

method.

J. R. Kelley, for the company, stated that he would not agree to enter into such a deal for the simple reason that there was no chance of an agreement between himself and the coopers, as had been sufficiently demonstrated by the prolonged duration of the strike. Mr. Kelley next made two propositions, which were both promptly rejected by the strikers. He offered to sign a contract with the coopers in which he would agree to pay the same wages as were paid by his competitors. This contract to hold for one, two or five years, according to the wishes of the coopers. His other proposition was plainly stated before a number of men present who had no direct interest in the affair. He was willing to abide by the decision of an arbitration board which should be chosen one member by himself, one member by the strikers and the third member by the two first named and whatever this board agreed upon would be binding upon the firm. He further stated that in case such an agreement was entered into he would be willing to sign any contract drawn by the arbitration board.

The strikers evidently wanted some further concessions upon the part of the firm, as the question of wages was not in controversy. Mr. Kelley stated in regard to employing union men that he would discriminate against no man. He stated that he never questioned a man with regard to such things. "Whether or not a man belongs to any union is immaterial to me," said he, "and I would employ one as soon as the other." After considerable time spent in discussion the strikers representatives left without reaching any agreement with Mr. Kelley.

NEWS FROM LEAVENWORTH.

Rumors of Friction in the Police Board in Regard to Appointments-Proceedings in the District Court-Miscellaneous News Items.

The case of Charles T. Johnson vs. or, Leslie E. Keeley, of bi-chloride of gold fame, came up for trial in the district court yesterday afternoon, when Judge Myers, on his own motion, continued the case until the next term of court. Johnson, who took the gold cure at Keeley's institute at Topeka, brought at Receiv's institute at Topeka, brought suit against Keeley in the sum of $100,-000 for alleged physical damages received, and the necessary legal papers were served on Keeley one year ago, when he was visiting Leavenworth, Subsequently, when Keeley's deposition in the case was being taken at Pontica, III he refused to appear and the case was being taken at Pontica, in the case was being taken at Pontica, Ill., he refused to answer certain questions bearing on the ingredients of his cure, on the ground that this was a trade secret, and he was upheld in his refusal by the Illinois supreme court.

Judge Myers, however, takes issue with the Illinois court on the ground that Keeley is not protected by letters patent on his formula, and is therefore bound to answer. The judge this evening set forth a series of questions, which Keeley will be asked to answer under oath, and a failure on his part will cause the judge to take summary action in the case when it again comes in court. Should Keeley make refusal, the judge is to strike his answer from the judge is to strike his answer from the court docket and allow a jury to assess whatever damages it sees fit to the
